

WAYNE NEEDHAM

FUNCTIONAL SUMMARY

Ability to comprehend and apply construction practices to meet plans and specification for commercial, industrial, institutional construction projects. Operation of heavy equipment. Ability to supervise multi-million dollar projects under extreme time and monetary constraints. Ability to manage stress while motivating employees. Complete construction skills, including concrete, welding, finish carpentry, finish hardware, and structural steel.

EMPLOYMENT

*1994 to Present Totem Pacific Contractors, Inc. Puyallup, WA
Vice President*

- Prepare estimates
- Manage multiple concurrent projects
- Assist President in day to day activities of the corporation

1971 through 1994 U.A. Local #470

Worked as journeyman carpenter, foreman, lead foreman and superintendent for the following companies:

Cree Construction 5529 186th Place S.W. Lynwood, WA 98046

Supervised carpenters and laborers on an $82,000,000 institutional project at the U.S. Navy steam plant at Bremerton Washington.

Supervised a large government project at Ft. Lewis, Washington for a similar construction contract.

Completed subcontract work for Cree Construction to install doors and hardware in a E.U.P.H. building at Ellison A.F.B., Fairbanks, Alaska

Other Washington area contractors I have supervised work for include; Sellen Construction Co, Pacific Ventures, T Ferguson, D.L. Hendrickson, Wilson and Dean,

EDUCATION

1968 through 1971

Green River Community College

Carpenter Apprenticeship

Washington Journeyman Carpenter Certificate

Certified Construction Quality Control Manager

Turner School of Project Management

